

Diploma in Teaching in the Lifelong Learning Sector Award at Level 5 (DTLLS)

This is the qualification required for those who teach, train or instruct adults in the lifelong learning sector in a 'full teaching role'

The course leads to Qualified Teacher Learning and Skills status (QTLS)

It is nationally recognised and accredited by City & Guilds, and consists of:

- 7 mandatory and a choice of optional units to bring total credits to at least 120

The course outline for the 18-month programme:

25 sessions of 6 hours for mandatory units and optional units

- Induction and taught sessions to address learning outcomes using a variety of teaching methods
- Each person will lead some Micro-sessions as part of their assessment tasks so that they can share their learning, and receive and give feedback to their peers on their teaching
- Guidance on how to write academic essays if needed

Assessment is by:

- Written assignments to cover the learning outcomes
- Reflective journal extending across the programme
- Teaching practice portfolio including observation of 8 hours of your teaching by your tutor

Entry requirements:

- Candidates must have access to, and undertake 150 hours of teaching practice, 8 hours of which will be observed by a tutor
- Candidates must have achieved PTTLS (or be prepared to undertake it concurrently), and a minimum Level 2 qualification in literacy and numeracy

The total cost of the City & Guilds DTLLS Award is £3000-00 pp and includes:

- All the above training and assessment support with qualified, friendly and experienced trainers and assessors
- A user-friendly portfolio, set up and ready to use with some suggested documents to help achieve competence in the optimum time.
- Registration and certification with City & Guilds
- VAT and all administration costs
- On-going telephone and e-mail support throughout the programme.

Added value

- Each person is entitled to two hours of tutorial support

There are no hidden extras (subject to minimum group size of 8 people)

Contact Annie Weir on 07919 542143 or annie@ivitalearning.co.uk for more details